INSTRUCTIONS

1. Eligibility

Only non-profit corporations are eligible for funding. Unincorporated entities such as block clubs are required to partner with an eligible non-profit to be considered for funding. An organization may be ineligible if it:

- Conducts only religious services, or requires program participants to join in religious activities;
- Conducts political activities;
- Operates a program that does not benefit city residents;
- Requests funding for a facility located outside the city; or
- Requests “start-up funding” for a new organization; total program funding; or indirect costs.

2. Funding

The city’s program year runs from October 1 to September 30. The City of Buffalo has not been notified of Year 44 2018-2019 allocations.

The city will not reimburse agencies for costs involved in applying for funding, and no activities can begin until an Award Letter or Sub-Grantee Agreement is fully executed.

3. Submission Deadline

Please label your submissions, including agency name and Program (CDBG, ESG, HOPWA) all submissions may be hand delivered or sent by mail; but must be received by 2:00 PM on Monday, May 10, 2018. Please submit completed applications and organizational assessment to:

Department of Community Services
Contract Administration Unit
1701 City Hall
Buffalo, NY 14202

4. Submission Contents

Submissions must be prepared on letter-sized paper; single-sided; and secured with a binder clip no staples. Submissions must contain the following:

Organizational Assessment

Agencies who have been previously funded for CDBG, ESG or HOPWA should apply using the Organizational Assessment for Returning Agencies.

All new applicants complete and submit required documents on the Organizational Assessment for New Agencies.

The Organizational Assessment provides an opportunity for reviewers to determine eligibility, capacity, and ability to deliver the proposed activities. Only one assessment needs to be completed, regardless of how many applications are being submitted. You should summarize the total amount of funding you are requesting from each source on the Cover Page of the Organizational Assessment.

There are a number of attachments that must be included with the organizational assessment; failure to submit any of these will result in an incomplete application that will not be reviewed. Only one (1) assessment is required per organization.

Conflict of Interest Disclosure

Include the Conflict of Interest Disclosure (Exhibit D) with your Organizational Assessment. Read through the disclosure and check the box either Yes or No. If you check yes, then on agency letterhead, please disclose all individuals with a potential Conflict of Interest, following the instructions stated on the Conflict of Interest Disclosure form. Only one (1) Conflict of Interest disclosure is required per organization.

If you are funded, you will be required to have each individual who has indicated YES on Exhibit D complete a full disclosure on the Conflict of Interest Analysis form, which is provided in this packet for informational purposes only. You do not have to complete these forms at this time.

Application

A separate application must be submitted for each program (CDBG, ESG, HOPWA) for which the organization seeks funding. There is an application for CDBG, a separate application for ESG and another for HOPWA funds. Included in the ESG submissions will be proposals for ESG funded Rapid Rehousing and Prevention, and Code Blue activities.

Please use the appropriate application. You may apply for any or all types of funding, but an individual program may not mix funds from CDBG, ESG, and HOPWA. For example:

- An agency requesting CDBG funds for a youth program that includes literacy, recreation, and after-school tutoring would submit one application for one program with multiple activities, and one organizational assessment. .
- An agency requesting CDBG funds for youth and senior programs would submit two applications – one for each program,  , and one organizational assessment. An agency requesting CDBG funds to operate a community center for youth and senior programs, and ESG funds to operate a homeless shelter would submit two applications – one for each funding source, along with one organizational assessment.
- An agency requesting ESG funds for street outreach and emergency shelter activities would submit one application, and one organizational assessment.
- An agency requesting HOPWA funds for TBRA, STRMU, and administration activities would submit one application, and one organizational assessment.

For CDBG applicants: You will need to identify the geographic area that the program serves by using the attached map to outline the boundaries for your service area (use a separate map for each program).

Answers to the questions contained in the application should be concise. Do not provide more information than will be visible in the text box; the reviewer will read only what appears in the text box, and not scroll down if additional text has been included.

The application should be signed by the Board Chair or President of the organization, or the Executive Director, if authorized to do so. There is an option for the governing board to authorize the Executive Director or CEO/CFO to negotiate with the city on behalf of the organization. A copy of that authorization will be required with the application.

If the organization has a co-applicant, or is applying on behalf of another organization, additional information on that group will need to be completed.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT

CDBG Application: should be completed if you are seeking CDBG funding.

Please review the regulations outlining eligible services (below) to explain how your organization is meeting the needs of the community CDBG is intended to serve. . It is also important to provide reasonable estimates of the numbers of persons utilizing your program on a regular basis. Please note that persons receiving newsletters, pamphlets, or flyers distributed to the general public cannot be counted as beneficiaries; this should include only persons who regularly participate and benefit from your program(s).

Eligible Activities

Public services funded by CDBG can include child care; health care; job training; recreation and education programs; crime prevention; fair housing counseling; services for youth, seniors, or the homeless; drug abuse counseling and treatment; energy conservation counseling and testing; and homebuyer down payment assistance. CDBG funds must be used to benefit low- and moderate-income persons or areas.

CDBG funding may not be used for:

- Income payments such as income maintenance, housing allowances, or mortgage subsidies.
- Equipment and furnishings, unless required to carry out a CDBG-assisted activity. Laptops, computers, , vans , appliances, etc. are not eligible
- Operations and maintenance expenses (reference CFR 570.207(b) (2) for exceptions).
- Political activities, including the use of facilities or equipment for political purposes; or to engage in partisan political activities such as candidate forums, voter transportation, or voter registration.

The city is required to submit an annual report (CAPER) to HUD that documents progress made in carrying out its Annual Action Plan. Agencies receiving funding for activities that provide a direct service to families and persons are required to report on the income racial and ethnic status of those persons assisted.

CDBG Project Requirements

An activity or project must meet one of HUD's National Objectives for benefiting low and moderate-income persons. Please reference CDBG regulations 570.208 for more detailed information, as this is a brief summary.

1. Area Benefit Activities (LMA) – this is available to all residents of a particular area, as long as at least 51 percent of the residents are low and moderate income (see map of HUD-eligible block groups), and the area is primarily residential in character.
2. Limited Clientele Activities (LMC) – this is available to a limited clientele; at least 51 percent are low or moderate-income. To qualify under this requirement, the activity must meet one of the following:
 - Groups presumed by HUD to be principally low and moderate income, such as abused children, battered spouses, elderly, severely disabled adults, homeless persons, illiterate adults, migrant farm workers, or persons living with AIDS.
 - The activity requires information on family size and income to document that at least 51 percent of clientele are persons whose family income does not exceed HUD's Section 8 Low and Moderate Income Guidelines.
 - The activity has income eligibility requirements that limit the activity exclusively to low and moderate income persons.
 - Be of such a nature and in such a location that it may be concluded that the activity's clientele will primarily be low and moderate-income persons.

EMERGENCY SOLUTIONS GRANT

Use the Emergency Solutions Grant (ESG) Application if you are seeking ESG funding. You will need to indicate what activities you will be providing, and the amount of funding being requested for each. Rapid Re-housing and Code Blue activities will be funded under this application, you will also need to estimate how many persons and households your program will serve under each activity; as well as the numbers of special population persons who will be assisted. The city does not fund all HUD-eligible activities; for example, there is no funding set aside for renovating facilities or providing tenant-based rental assistance. You can apply only for the activities listed.

The HEARTH Act shifted the focus of ESG funding from addressing the needs of the homeless in emergency or transitional shelters to assisting persons to quickly regain stability in permanent housing after experiencing a housing crisis or homelessness.

Pending notification from HUD, funding will be provided in 2018 for the following activities: Rapid Rehousing, Street Outreach, including Coordinated Entry, Shelter, including Code Blue, Homelessness Prevention and HMIS.

Please note, when applying for ESG funding, that you will be required to participate in the Coordinated Entry process, and enter all client data into the HMIS reporting system.

Rapid Re-housing and Code Blue funds will be awarded thru this application process. HMIS funding is provided only to the Homeless Alliance of WNY for licensing and management of the Bas-Net system. Any staff costs that your agency incurs entering client data into HMIS should be included under program delivery charges; and all agencies applying for ESG funding must currently be using Bas-Net. Finally, preparing coordinated entry assessments is an eligible ESG expense, and staff time to assist with these may be included within your agency's program delivery charges for the related additionally, all agencies receiving funding will be required to utilize the Coordinated Entry Process.

HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES FOR PERSONS WITH AIDS

Please submit your application for Housing for Persons with AIDS (HOPWA) on the appropriate program application, along with your organizational assessment. HOPWA funding may be used for the activities listed below, and further detailed in Subpart D - Uses of Grant Funds (24 CFR 574.300) in the program regulations:

- Supportive services
- Housing information services
- Permanent Housing Placement
- Project-based or tenant-based rental assistance
- Short term rent, mortgage and utility payments to prevent homelessness
- Operating costs for housing
- Resource Identification

The following principles should be factored into planning, staffing, and budgeting for the proposed program:

- Housing and housing support services continue to be a critical and unmet need of persons with AIDS. Factors contributing to homelessness among persons with AIDS include the high cost of health care; employment and housing discrimination; job loss; isolation from family and lack of social supports; and the debilitating effects of this disease.
- The AIDS epidemic continues to disproportionately effect communities of color and other at risk populations. Applicants should demonstrate experience and effectiveness in serving communities of color, and show how program activities will result in access to a full continuum of high-quality services for these communities.
- In order to effectively engage clients and provide high-quality services, a trusting partnership must be developed between provider and client. Programs should be designed with an understanding of the differences that derive from language, culture, race, ethnicity, and religion. These differences include variations in values, belief systems, and subcultures, including those related to gender, age, income, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, substance use, and homelessness.

- Consumers are an important component in the design, development, evaluation, and improvement of AIDS programs. Applicants should document how consumers participated in the design of the program, and include a plan for ongoing consumer involvement and evaluation.
- Applicants must develop clearly articulated referral agreements focused on specific services needed by the target populations that are not available on site. Funded programs should develop active working relationships through written letters of agreement or sub-contractual arrangements with other local providers to ensure a comprehensive continuum of services.
- Per federal regulations, persons eligible to receive assistance or services under the HOPWA program are low-income persons with AIDS or related diseases and their families. A person with AIDS or related diseases is eligible to receive housing information services regardless of income. Any person living in proximity to a community residence is eligible to participate in that residence's community outreach and educational activities regarding AIDS or related diseases.
